

Q. Should the Bid Separated, Bid Combined information for the Code include information regarding delivery of the Tables and Index volumes or is it just for the six volumes of the Code?

A. We expect our vendor to drop ship the Tables and Index volumes to the Judicial Districts, so information regarding the cost of the Tables and Index volumes should be included in the information.

Q. Should the Acts, Code, and Tables and Index be packaged together? They have different delivery dates.

A. The Acts is packaged as a separate publication; the Code volumes are packaged as a set; and the Tables and Index volume is packaged as if it were a separate publication.

Q. Section IV, Section E - Are 3-hole drilled printed sigs (assembled pages) used for an additional step of review or are they used for another purpose?

A. The 3-hole drilled printed sigs are used for another purpose. It is to allow us to continue other codification work and to assist our bill-drafting unit and others with their work that relates to the content of the final versions of the statutes and which begins before the bound versions of the books arrive.

Q. Section V, Section 3 - Will the pink pages in the Code be in even signature breaks (either 32-pages/48 pages/64 pages) or will they appear within signatures?

A. The pink pages will be in even signature breaks. We have been keeping them to one 32-page signature in the past.

Q. Section IX, A & B - Do the individual cartons need to be placed into larger cartons? If so, do both cartons need to be preprinted?

A. The individual cartons do not need to be placed into larger cartons.
